Dashi

DASHI NAMDAKOV

In the work of Dashi Namdakov, two components are clearly visible: an excellent professional school and images of ancient Eastern cultures as a source of inspiration.

This applies equally to his sculpture, graphics, and small plastic jewelry.

Dashi Namdakov combines the heritage of world fine art - from Altamira painting and Renaissance graphics, Japanese engraving and netsuke, Scythian-Siberian animal style and Central Asian and medieval European plastic art to African sculpture.

Below are souvenir works that will decorate your space or make a great gift for a close and significant friend.

ARTVIA / TEA SET BUTTERCUPS AND BLOSSOMS

The refined whiteness of bone china with a slender border of wildflowers offers a glimpse into a summer meadow through the transparency of morning mist. The cup's surface remains pure and airy, making the flowers stand out even more vividly, recalling sunlit days and a carefree mood.

ARTVIA / TEA SET STRAWBERRY MEADOW

A summer story unfolds on the bone china, with its fresh wiggling grasses, wildflowers, and vivid accents of wild strawberries. The picture seems to have arised straight from a summer meadow, with the scent of fresh greenery, the sun warmth, and the feeling of joy when finding a fragrant scarlet berry in the grass.

This tea set conveys the atmosphere of a quiet morning in the garden, when the herbal tea tastes so good, accompanied by the sound of rustling leaves and the scent of sun-warmed earth.

ARTVIA / TEA SET HERBAL SNOWFLAKE

On the pristine whiteness of porcelain, a delicate motif of summer grasses forms a light, almost graphic ornament. Yellow blossoms scattered across the surface like sparks of sunlight create a feeling of freshness.

The name «Herbal Snowflake» is no coincidence: the pattern recalls the fragile geometry of a snowflake — this time shaped not from ice but from radiant summer flowers.

ARTVIA / PLATE "SALUTE!"

On this plate, the flowers burst as bright fireworks — hence the name Salute. Field bellflowers, buttercups and cornflowers are weaved into a vibrant pattern, reminiscent of a colorful flare in the summer sky.

The plate's name is not by chance, it's devoted to childhood: kids love to pick up colorful wildflowers in their hands and throw them into the sky, shouting "salute!" as they watch the colorful rain fall to the ground.

«Salute» is a part of the «Peaceful meadow» collection, where each plate carries the spirit of the Russian summer and the inspiration of nature.

DECORATIVE PLATE
WITH AR

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR MERCHANT YELISEYEV

The founder of the famous trading dynasty, Pyotr Yeliseyev, was not always fabulously wealthy.

According to legend, he once worked as a gardener at Count Sheremetev's estate and was rewarded with his freedom and some money to start his own business—simply because he had grown strawberries just in time for the Christmas dinner (a true little miracle!).

After moving to St. Petersburg, the enterprising peasant soon opened his own shop and began earning well by selling exotic fruits. Even in his new status, he remained a remarkable man, continuing to perform small wonders. Through our “window into history,” we can see the kind merchant offering a fragrant orange to a little girl passing through Saint Isaac's Square.

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR ORGAN-GRINDER

This plate is no ordinary plate - it's a magical one! It tells a Christmas story that once took place on a snowy evening in 19th-century St. Petersburg. At that time, it was still possible to meet wandering organ-grinders on the city's streets, accompanied by their playful little monkeys.

To discover the story, simply point your smartphone camera at the QR code and download the augmented reality app. Then, as if peering through a magical monocle, look at the image on the plate and watch its characters come to life to the melodious sound of the barrel organ. Soft snow falls against the backdrop of St. Nicholas Cathedral, blanketing the old buildings and embankments in silver, while passersby stroll leisurely, awaiting the New Year's miracle. And the gray-haired musician, with his radiant gaze and soulful face, resembles a kind-hearted wizard, encounters like this happen only on Christmas Eve.

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR TO CATHERINE

This is no ordinary plate - It's a magical one!
It tells you a story that once upon a time took place in St.
Petersburg.

To discover the story, just point your smartphone camera at the QR code and download the AR app. As if through an enchanted monocle, look at the image on the plate and watch its characters come to life.

You can watch a playful scene from the 19th-century St.
Petersburg. At the Spit of Vasilyevsky Island which served as a pier at the time, a bustling fish market has sprung up.
Sailboats and fishing boats are moored in the waters of the Neva. A young man in a naval officer's uniform carries his catch — a giant fish cheerfully wagging its tail — up to the imperial table.
Who knows, maybe he's the new favorite of the amorous empress.

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR "SISKIN-WAD"

To discover this story, just point your smartphone camera at the QR code and download the AR app. As if through an enchanted monocle, look at the image and watch its characters come to life.

Every St. Petersburg citizen knows the playful rhyme about "Siskin-Wad". According to legend, the city character "Chizhik" emerged due to the resemblance between the plumage of a finch ("chizh", in Russian) and the uniform worn by students of a law college at Fontanka embankment.

At the end of the 20th century, "Siskin-wad" found a permanent home under a bridge on Fontanka river to become the smallest sculpture in St. Petersburg.

In our tale, this folk hero gets a new story: the cheerful bird lands on the nearby Moyka river embankment to show off in front of the other city birds.

Meanwhile, the merry meeting is suddenly joined by another beloved St. Petersburg character, Vasily, the ginger Hermitage cat.

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR SUMMER EVENING

This is no ordinary plate, it's a magical one!
It tells you a story that once upon a time took place in St.
Petersburg.

To discover the story, just point your smartphone camera at the QR code and download the AR app. As if through an enchanted monocle, look at the image on the plate and watch its characters come to life.

Carriages rattle over the cobbled bridge, boats glide smoothly toward the Catherine Canal, and an elegantly dressed couple sets off for a romantic promenade in the Mikhailovsky Garden near the Church of the Savior on Spilled Blood.

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR WHITE NIGHT ON THE NEVA

This is no ordinary plate, it's a magical one! It tells a story that once upon a time took place in St. Petersburg.

To discover the tale, just point your smartphone camera at the QR code and download the AR app. As if through an enchanted monocle, look at the plate's image and watch its characters come to life.

The artist was inspired by the style of antique engravings, using their signature blue tones to depict the Neva River, its bridges, gardens, and sailing ships.

In the animated scene, you'll find everything that captures the spirit of St. Petersburg: clouds drifting across a grey sky, strong sea winds whipping the flags, a mysterious lady strolling with an umbrella through the drizzle - all unfolding to the shimmering chime of the Peter and Paul Cathedral's carillon.

ARTVIA /
COLLECTION PUSHKIN'S FAIRYTALES IN ST. PETERSBURG
DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR LEARNED CAT

The Learned Cat appears as a wise, knowledgeable, and distinguished gentleman with a noble moustache. He is a kind storyteller, guardian of knowledge, legends, and tales, inspired by the Cat-Bayun from Russian folklore.

This cat is deeply St. Petersburg in spirit. Cats have long been one of the city's symbols. Empress Catherine the Great famously invited cats to St. Petersburg to protect her beloved Hermitage Museum from mischievous rats, and the cats loyally served Her Majesty. Today, they continue their work in the city's main museum, standing as true guardians of art and heritage. That is why the Learned Cat is depicted against the backdrop of the Winter Palace, the Hermitage's main building, comfortably perched on one of St. Petersburg's famous oaks. Legend has it that some of these oaks were planted by the city's founder, Peter the Great himself!

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR THE SWAN PRINCESS

Could the Swan Princess live in the mysterious city of St. Petersburg? Perhaps she shyly hides her extraordinary beauty among the swans of the Carp Pond in the Summer Garden, or on the waters of Yelagin Island. Only when the White Nights arrive, and the bridges over the Neva rise as if by the wave of an invisible conductor's wand, does the magic of Pushkin's tales come alive in the northern twilight. Under the canopy of Scarlet Sails, thirty-three brave heroes step ashore from the Neva under the guidance of their gray-haired captain. A beautiful mermaid rests thoughtfully beneath the sprawling branches of Peter's oaks, and the wondrous Swan transforms into an otherworldly young woman, who, in the rhythm of a magical fairy-tale dance, takes the elegant form of a ballerina from the Mariinsky Theatre, the heroine of Tchaikovsky's immortal ballet Swan Lake.

ARTVIA / DECORATIVE PLATE WITH AR THE FIREBIRD

This is not a simple plate but a magic one!
It tells the story about the Russian fairytale Firebird ,a fabulous creature that lives in a far-faraway land, in a magic garden where rejuvenating apples grow.

The animation begins with a golden apple rolling around the plate: this reminds of another Russian folk story about "The silver Plate and the juicy Apple." It tells about a girl who asked her father to buy her two simple things - a silver plate and a juicy apple - that turn out to be magical and able to show the wonders of the world:

After the magic apple rolls, the Firebird comes alive: it spreads its golden wings, waves its fabulous tail and gifts the viewer a colorful feather. There's an old popular belief that the one who gets the Firebird's feather becomes happy and successful in every deed.
